

To Whom it May Concern, I have been a loyal XM Satellite Radio customer for over a year. When I found out that XM was offering instant traffic and weather for my area, I was excited. I can receive commercial free, accurate traffic and weather updated from my area and almost any area that I might travel. It should be my right as an American to listen to any XM channel, including traffic and weather, as much as I like. I pay monthly for XM services; the FCC should not be able to tell me what I can and can't listen to. Please reject the NAB petition 04-160.

Respectfully,
Tracy Acklin
